RICKER CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.

LOCATION

Ricker Classical Institute is situated in Houlton, Maine, the shire town of Aroostook County, one hundred and forty miles east of Bangor, by the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. Houlton, with its fine business blocks, well-kept streets, beautiful residences and lawns, is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful villages in the State. The school grounds, covering about five acres, are in the centre of the village, upon an elevation which commands a view over a wide range of farm, forest and hill.

HISTORY

Houlton Academy received its charter in 1847, and its first term opened in September, 1848. In 1877 it was transferred to Colby College, given a substantial endowment of $30,000, and made the Eastern Preparatory School of that college.

Three buildings in succession have been erected upon the same site. The last, built at a cost of $30,000, was the gift of Mrs. Catherine L. Wording, of Grand Forks, North Dakota, as a memorial to her husband, William E. Wording, who had been a life-long friend of Rev. Joseph Ricker. In as much as it was through the influence of Dr. Ricker that this gift was secured, and as his own personal gifts to the school had amounted to nearly $10,000, the name was changed in 1887, to Ricker Classical Institute. Since 1887 the grounds have been enlarged from two acres to nearly five. Wording Hall has been completed and the former school building has been converted into a neat and commodious dormitory for students. From year to year the number of teachers has been increased and the courses have been broadened to meet the growing demands of the community and of the times.

BUILDINGS

Wording Hall is made of brick and freestone, is modern in architecture, and is furnished with modern appliances. It is constructed upon hygienic principles, and it has every provision for the comfort and convenience of pupils. It contains twenty rooms. A large hall, with a seating capacity of five hundred, adds much to the value of this building. Here public exercises are held, the scholars meet in occasional social gatherings, and in the winter months the whole school assembles once a day for calisthenic drill. The two study rooms are adorned with pictures and statuary which from year to year have been presented by different classes. The dormitory, only a few rods from Wording Hall, makes a convenient home for students, where their health and comfort may be guarded by teachers and matron. The dormitory contains forty rooms, including those occupied by the Principal and other teachers, a kitchen, dining-room, students' parlor, and twenty rooms for students' private use. There are three bath-rooms, supplied with hot and cold water. The building is heated throughout by steam. The students' rooms are convenient and pleasant. They are furnished with bed, mattress, pillows, table, chairs, commode and lamp. Any student is at liberty to add to this furniture, carpet, rocking-chairs, pictures or any other comfort or adornment. Sheets, pillow cases, blankets or quilts, towels, and napkins must be brought by the students.

PURPOSE.

This school has been founded and endowed by those who believe it pays to invest money in young people and who expect this money to bear a large rate of interest in the honorable, Christian character of those who receive the benefits of this investment. Hence it is the aim of its instructors to hold up the highest ideals of life before those who come under their tuition.

Believing that a college training is the best foundation for any useful calling, they will use their influence to persuade promising students to enter the college course. The school also aims to meet the demands of those whose education must be limited to an academic course, or who wish to fit themselves for teachers or for a business life.

COURSES.

There are four courses of study: namely, a College Preparatory, an English and Scientific, and an Academic course, of four years each; and a Normal course of three years.

The College course includes not only the Greek, Latin and Mathematics required for admission to college, but also such English branches as lie at the foundation of correct writing and speaking, and some of the elementary sciences. To meet the requirement of Colby's new "Course without Greek," leading to the degree of Ph. B., in place of the three years of preparatory Greek now required, two years of French, one of German, and Elementary Science may be substituted. French in the fourth year of the Greek course is optional, but those who begin it must continue it for the whole year.

The English and Scientific course embraces the sciences and English branches, although French may be substituted for one study during two years.

The Academic course is designed especially for young ladies who wish to study Latin, but do not have a college education in view. During two years, French may be substituted for the English branch designated in the course.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

In 1889 the State Legislature made an appropriation for ten years for the maintenance of a Normal Department in Ricker Classical Institute. In 1899 this appropriation was renewed for two years. It is believed that the wisdom of this step has been fully justified by the results. During the past ten years over two hundred and fifty different students have taken the whole or a part of this course, receiving instruction not only in the High School branches, but also in Methods of Teaching, School Management, History of Pedagogy and other branches bearing directly upon the science of teaching. Of those who have graduated from this course, all but one either have taught or are teaching in this or other states. Without the aid of this department, these teachers must have gone to their work ignorant of the aim and methods of teaching. So apparent is the benefit of this Normal Training that the demand for graduates from this course can not be met, many supervisors refusing to employ teachers who have not had Normal instruction in this or some other school. There certainly is need of instruction of this sort in this section of the State.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

It is needless to say that this course is a valuable adjunct to the curriculum. The steady growth of the department is abundant proof of the favor with which it is meeting. The following is the course in piano instruction :

First Grade—Rudiments of music. Elementary exercises for practice in reading notes and in gaining a knowledge of time. Easy studies for the development of technique.

Second Grade—Continuation of elementary exercises. Studies from Vogt, Koehler, Heller and Czerny. Major and minor scales in the simple forms. Easy pieces suitable for the development of technique in both hands.

Third Grade—Major and minor scales in various rythms. Arpeggios in simple forms. Trill studies by Krause, and Twenty-four Studies in all the major and minor keys by Vogt. Studies for the development of velocity by Barens, Czerny, Hasert and LeCouppéy. Octave studies by Vogt and Czerny. For pieces, some of the easier sonatas of Clementi, Mozart, and Hayden. Selections of medium difficulty from Beethoven's compositions. Mendelssohn's Songs without words, and other pieces suited to individual requirements, from standard composers.

Fourth Grade—Transposition of finger exercises and arpeggio work. The Fifty Studies by Cramer-Bulow, Gradus ad Parnassum, selections from Czerny Studies Op. 740, and Etudes by Bertini Op. 66. Octave studies by Low and Wolff. Bach's Two-part Inventions and selections from the Three-part Inventions. Schubert's Impromptus, Mozart and Beethoven's Sonatas, Nocturnes by Field and Chopin, Chopin Valses, Compositions by Schumann, Moszkowski, Rheinberger, Godard, Bach, Reinecke, and other standard writers.

Pupils satisfactorily completing these four grades would be prepared to enter the fourth grade of N. E. Conservatory regular piano-forte course, graduating from that institution at the completion of the sixth grade as laid out in their prospectus.

Miss Flanders also gives instruction in Pipe Organ, Voice Culture, and Harmony.

From time to time, Musicales will be given by this department in order to give the pupils practice in public performances.

ADMISSION.

To enter any of the literary courses, one must pass a satisfactory examination in Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, United States History, Elementary Physiology, Reading and Spelling.

Students holding certificates admitting them to graded High Schools will be received on probation without examination. For the convenience of others wishing to enter the school, entrance examination papers will be sent to the Supervisor or some other responsible person in town, provided a request for the papers is made two weeks before the term opens. All others will be examined on the opening day of the term, unless they wish to enter the Preparatory course, in which case no written test will be required.

Those who are to attend the school for more than a term will find it to their profit to enter one of the courses. The studies follow each other in the natural order during the year, and they are so arranged as to give the greatest variety of mental discipline each term. For those, however, who can attend only at irregular intervals, arrangements will be made, so far as expedient, to take any study included in the curriculum. A reference to the different courses of study will show that a good variety is offered each term. Each student, save for exceptional causes, is required to recite in not less than three classes each day. When once the work has been begun, the student must obtain the permission of the Principal to drop a study or to change his course. In order to enter advanced classes and receive the diploma of the school, students must pass an examination upon the previous work of the course, or give a certificate of satisfactory work done in other schools of equal grade.

Particular attention is called to the fact that classes in Ancient and Modern Languages are formed at the beginning of the fall term only. Those entering these classes later must be prepared upon the work gone over by the class.

DISCIPLINE AND DEPORTMENT.

Believing that voluntary obedience is better than that which is compelled, the instructors aim to inculcate those principles of self-respect and self-restraint which are at the basis of all good government.

The general sentiment of this school is in sympathy with what is honest, upright and manly. While this spirit can be fostered, there is but little need of a long code of rules. Attention is called to a few rules, however, that are imperative.

It is supposed that students boarding in town, away from their homes, are here for the purpose of study, and all such are under the authority of the Principal at all times, and will be required to observe regular study hours in their rooms on every evening except Friday and Sunday. Frequenting places of questionable character, at any time, is strictly forbidden. No student will be allowed to join any organization or attend any places of amusement which will take his interest from school duties.

Students are required to be punctual and regular in their attendance upon all school exercises, and satisfactory excuses must be given for each absence or tardiness. Any student who leaves town without the consent of the Principal, lays himself liable to suspension. No student can honorably leave the school without giving notice of his intention to the Principal.

No student who wilfully and persistently disregards any of the regulations of the school, who is profane or intemperate, or whose influence is otherwise pernicious, will be allowed to remain in the school.

RELIGIOUS PRIVILEGES.

There are brief religious exercises each morning at the opening of the school. The members of the various Young People's Societies have formed a United Society of Christian Endeavor. This organization holds a school prayer meeting once a week, at the close of the afternoon session, to which all are welcome.

All non-resident students are required to attend the day service at some place of public worship on the sabbath, each student or his parents or guardian selecting any one of the places of worship in the village. Excuses are required for all failures to comply with this rule.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Philomusians, a society organized by the young ladies and gentlemen, has for its aim the promotion of an interest in music, literature, debate and social culture. It meets in the school room once in two weeks, at which time a well arranged literary and musical programme is carried out. A society known as the "Sigmas," whose membership is confined to the two upper classes of the Academic and College courses, has for its primary object the reading of the college requirements in English and meets fortnightly. The Young Men also have their own organizations for the purpose of debate.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The library contains about one thousand volumes. It is open every day, and students are not only given free access to the books but are directed in courses of reading.

The Reading Room is supported by the contributions of students and by the gifts of friends. The following papers and magazines are found on its file: Review of Reviews, McClure's, Public Opinion, The Outlook, Success, Self-Culture, Youth's Companion, Boston Herald, Ladies' Home Journal, Zion's Advocate, and the following by courtesy of the editors: Aroostook Times, Star-Herald, Northern Leader, Aroostook Republican and the Kitchen Magazine.

APPARATUS.

Few schools of this grade in the State have a more convenient chemical and physical laboratory than has this school. The apparatus is not of the expensive sort which is kept in glass cases to be looked at, but is made for use. Students are allowed to use the apparatus in performing experiments, thus acquiring a knowledge of the subject which cannot be gained by the study of a text book alone or by observing the experiment performed by the teacher.

The chemical laboratory is equally well stocked with chemicals. In this branch, also, the experiments are performed by the student. To cover the cost of breakage and material, $1 for the course in Physics, and $1.50 for Chemistry is required of each student.

PHYSICAL EXERCISE

During the warmer months students are advised to spend the recreation periods in the open air. The ample grounds offer excellent facilities for base-ball, foot-ball, croquet, tennis, and all sorts of out of door sports. All wholesome athletic games are encouraged so far as they make stronger bodies, foster a manly spirit, and help the students to do better mental work. They are not allowed to occupy so prominent a place in school life as to become the end rather than the means of effort.

From November to June, students are given physical exercises in Memorial Hall. Here is sufficient floor space for dumb-bell practice, marching, Delsarte movements, Swedish gymnastics without apparatus, and basket-ball. A temporary structure, seventy feet long and twenty wide, has recently been built for winter in-door practice in base-ball.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

Public exercises of the school in reading, declamation, and music are held during the fall and winter terms. The graduating exercises occur on the last Thursday of the spring term, when original addresses are required from all students receiving a diploma.

EXAMINATIONS.

Written examinations are given at the middle and at the end of each term. A special oral examination of the graduating class is given at the close of the spring term. No student will be excused from these examinations except for the best of reasons, and all thus excused will be required to pass examinations before continuing in the course of study, or receiving the diploma of the school. All students must make up and recite lessons lost by reason of absence, or they will be marked zero upon the lessons lost. The standing of each student is sent to the parent or guardian at the close of the term.

GRADUATION.

Young gentlemen and ladies who have completed any course and have passed a satisfactory examination, receive the diploma of the Institute certifying to these facts. In case the student's deportment has not been satisfactory or an average rank in scholarship of at least sixty per cent. has not been obtained, the diploma is not conferred. Students are ranked in the first, second or third grade, according to their average standing during their courses. In making up this average, deportment is counted as one study.

ADMISSION TO COLBY COLLEGE

Graduates from the College course are admitted to Colby College without further examination, on the certificate of the Principal that they have completed the course and have maintained an average scholarship of at least seventy per cent. in each study, provided that the said certificate shall be granted with the approval of the faculty of the college, a committee of whom shall attend the examinations of the Institute. Exception is made in the case of those who take the course without Greek, of whom an entrance examination is required.

SCHOLARSHIP.

Hon. Chester W. Kingsley of Cambridge, Mass., has paid $500 to be used to found a scholarship in Ricker Classical Institute. The donor desires that the income be employed, so far as may be, "to assist poor young men who are seeking an education for the purpose of becoming Baptist ministers."

RICKER CLASSICAL INSTITUTE.

LOCATION.

Ricker Classical Institute is situated in Houlton, Maine, the shire town of Aroostook Connty, one hundred and forty miles east of Bangor by the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad. Houlton, with its fine business blocks, well-kept streets, beautiful residences and lawns, is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful villages in the State. The school grounds, covering about five acres, are in the centre of the village, upon an elevation which commands a view over a wide range of farm, forest, and hill.

HISTORY.

Houlton Academy received its charter in 1847, and its first term opened in September, 1848. In 1877 it was transferred to Colby College, given a substantial endowment of $30,000, and made the Eastern Preparatory School of that college.

Three buildings in succession have been erected upon the same site. The last, built at a cost of $30,000, was the gift of Mrs. Catherine L. Wording, of Grand Forks, North Dakota, as a memorial to her husband, William E. Wording, who had been a life-long friend of Rev. Joseph Ricker. In as much as it was through the influence of Dr. Ricker that this gift was secured, and as his own personal gifts to the school had amounted to nearly $10,000, the name was changed in 1887, to Ricker Classical Institute. Since 1887 the grounds have been enlarged from two acres to nearly five. Wording Hall has been completed and the former school building has been converted into a neat and commodious dormitory for students. From year to year the number of teachers has been increased and the courses have been broadened to meet the growing demands of the community and of the times.

BUILDINGS.

Wording Hall is made of brick and freestone, is modern in architecture, and is furnished with modern appliances. It is constructed upon hygienic principles, and it has every provision for the comfort and convenience of pupils. It contains twenty rooms. A large hall, with a seating capacity of five hundred, adds much to the value of this building. Here public exercises are held, the scholars meet in occasional social gatherings, and in the winter months the whole school assembles once a day for calisthenic drill. The two study rooms are adorned with pictures and statuary which from year to year have been presented by different classes. The dormitory, only a few rods from Wording Hall, makes a convenient home for students, where their health and comfort may be guarded by teachers and matron. The dormitory contains forty rooms, including those occupied by the Principal and other teachers, a kitchen, dining-room, students' parlor, and twenty rooms for students' private use. There are three bath-rooms, supplied with hot and cold water. The building is heated throughout by steam. The students' rooms are convenient and pleasant. A long distance telephone is connected with the house. The rooms are furnished with bed, mattress, pillows, table, chairs, commode, and lamp. Any student is at liberty to add to this furniture carpet, rocking-chairs, pictures or any other comfort or adornment. Sheets, pillow cases, blankets or quilts, towels, and napkins must be brought by the students.

A wooden building seventy feet long and twenty wide has recently been built for winter in-door practice in base-ball.

PURPOSE.

This school has been founded and endowed by those who believe it pays to invest money in young people and who expect this money to bear a large rate of interest in the Christian character of those who receive the benefits of this investment.

Hence it is the aim of its instructors to hold up the highest ideals of life before those who come under their tuition.

Believing that a college training is the best foundation for any useful calling, they will use their influence to persuade promising students to enter the college course. The school also aims to meet the demands of those whose education must be limited to an academic course, or who wish to fit themselves for teachers or for a business life.

COURSES.

There are four courses of study : namely, a College Preparatory, an English and Scientific, and an Academic course, of four years each ; and a Normal course of three years.

The College course includes not only the Greek, Latin and Mathematics required for admission to college, but also such English branches as lie at the foundation of correct writing and speaking, and some of the elementary sciences. To meet the requirements of Colby's "Course without Greek," leading to the degree of Ph. B., in place of the three years of preparatory Greek now required, two years of French, and one Elementary Science may be substituted. French in the fourth year of the Greek course is optional, but those who begin it must continue it for the whole year.

The English and Scientific course embraces the sciences and English branches. French may be substituted for one study during two years.

The Academic course is designed especially for young ladies who wish to study Latin, but do not have a college education in view. During two years, French may be substituted for the English branch designated in the course.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

In 1889 the State Legislature made an appropriation for ten years for the maintenance of a Normal Department in Ricker Classical Institute. In 1899 this appropriation was renewed for two years. It is believed that the wisdom of this step has been fully justified by the results. During the past eleven years over two hundred and seventy-five different students have taken the whole or a part of this course, receiving instruction not only in the High School branches, but also in Methods of Teaching, School Management, History of Pedagogy and other branches bearing directly upon the science of teaching. Nearly all of these have taught in this or other states. Without the aid of this department, these teachers must have gone to their work ignorant of the aim and methods of teaching. So apparent is the benefit of this Normal Training that the demand for graduates from this course is greater than can be met, many supervisors refusing to employ teachers who have not had Normal instruction in this or some other school. There certainly is need of instruction of this sort in this section of the State.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT.

It is needless to say that this course is a valuable adjunct to the curriculum. The steady growth of the department is abundant proof of the favor with which it is meeting. The following is the course in piano instruction:

First Grade—Rudiments of music. Elementary exercises for practice in reading notes and in gaining a knowledge of time. Easy studies for the development of technique.

Second Grade—Continuation of elementary exercises. Studies from Vogt, Koehler, Heller and Czerny. Major and minor scales in the simple forms. Easy pieces suitable for the development of technique in both hands.

Third Grade—Major and minor scales in various rhythms. Arpeggios in simple forms. Trill studies by Krause, and Twenty-four Studies in all the major and minor keys by Vogt. Studies for the development of velocity by Barenz, Czerny, Hasert and LeCoupey. Octave studies by Vogt and Czerny. For pieces, some of the easier sonatas of Clementi, Mozart, and Haydn. Selections of medium difficulty from Beethoven's compositions. Mendelssohn's Songs without words, and other pieces suited to individual requirements, from standard composers.

Fourth Grade—Transposition of finger exercises and arpeggio work. The fifty Studies by Cramer-Bulow, Gradus ad Parnassum, selections from Czerny Studies Op. 740, and Etudes by Bertini Op. 66. Octave studies by Low and Wolff. Bach's Two-part Inventions and selections from the Three-part Inventions. Schubert's Impromptus, Mozart and Beethoven's Sonatas, Nocturnes by Field and Chopin, Chopin Valses, Compositions by Schumann, Moszkowski, Rheinberger, Godard, Bach, Reinecke, and other standard writers.

Pupils satisfactorily completing these four grades would be prepared to enter the fourth grade of N. E. Conservatory regular piano-forte course, to graduate from that institution at the completion of the sixth grade as laid out in their prospectus.

Miss Flanders also gives instruction in Pipe Organ, Voice Culture and Harmony.

From time to time, Musicales will be given by this department in order to give the pupils practice in public performance.

ADMISSION.

To enter any of the literary courses, one must pass a satisfactory examination in Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, United States History, Elementary Physiology, Reading and Spelling.

Students holding certificates admitting them to graded High Schools will be received on probation without examination. For the convenience of others wishing to enter the school, entrance examination papers will be sent to the Supervisor or some other responsible person in town, provided a request for the papers is made two weeks before the term opens. All others will be examined on the opening day of the term, unless they wish to enter the Preparatory course, in which case no written test will be required.

Those who are to attend the school for more than a term will find it to their profit to enter one of the courses. The studies follow each other in the natural order during the year, and they are so arranged as to give the greatest variety of mental discipline each term. For those, however, who can attend only at irregular intervals, arrangements will be made, so far as expedient, to take any study included in the curriculum. A reference to the different courses of study will show that a good variety is offered each term. Each student, save for exceptional causes, is required to recite in not fewer than three classes each day. When once the work has been begun, the student must obtain the permission of the Principal to drop a study or to change his course. In order to enter advanced classes and receive the diploma of the school, students must pass an examination upon the previous work of the course, or give a certificate of satisfactory work done in other schools of equal grade.

Particular attention is called to the fact that classes in Ancient and Modern Languages are formed at the beginning of the fall term only. Those entering these classes later must be prepared upon the work gone over by the class.

DISCIPLINE AND DEPARTMENT.

Believing that voluntary obedience is better than that which is compelled, the instructors aim to inculcate those principles of self-respect and self-restraint which are at the basis of all good government.

The general sentiment of this school is in sympathy with what is honest, upright and manly. While this spirit can be fostered, there is but little need of a long code of rules. Attention is called to a few rules, however, that are imperative

It is presumed that students boarding in town, away from their homes, are here for the purpose of study, and all such are under the authority of the Principal at all times, and will be required to observe regular study hours in their rooms on every evening except Friday and Sunday. Frequenting places of questionable character, at any time is strictly forbidden. No student will be allowed to join any organization or attend any places of amusement which will take his interest from school duties.

Students are required to be punctual and regular in their attendance upon all school exercises, and satisfactory excuses must be given for each absence or tardiness. Any student who leaves town without the consent of the Principal, lays himself liable to suspension. No student can honorably leave the school without giving notice of his intention to the Principal.

No student who wilfully and persistently disregards any of the regulations of the school, who is profane or intemperate, or whose influence is otherwise pernicious, will be allowed to remain in the school.

RELIGIOUS PRIVILEGES.

There are brief religious exercises each morning at the opening of the school. The members of the various Young People's Societies have formed a United Society of Christian Endeavor. This organization holds a school prayer meeting once a week, at the close of the afternoon session, to which all are welcome.

All non-resident students are required to attend the day service at some place of public worship on the Sabbath, each student or his parents or guardian selecting any one of the places of worship in the village. Excuses are required for all failures to comply with this rule.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Philomusians, a society organized by the young ladies and gentlemen, has for its aim the promotion of an interest in music, literature, debate and social culture. It meets in the school room once in two weeks, at which time a well arranged literary and musical programme is carried out. A society known as the "Sigmas," whose membership is confined to the two upper classes of the Academic and College courses, has for its primary object the reading of the college requirements in English and meets fortnightly. The Young Men also have their own organizations for the purpose of debate.

A school paper called the Aquilo is published by the students once a month during the school year.

LIBRARY AND READING ROOM.

The library contains about one thousand volumes. It is open every day, and students are not only given free access to the books but are directed in courses of reading.

The reading Room is supported by the contributions of students and by the gifts of friends. The following papers and magazines are found on its file: The Bangor Daily News, The Boston Herald, and the Kennebec Journal; five weekly papers, Zion's Advocate, The Times, The Pioneer, the Aroostook Republican, and the Colby Echo; four weekly magazines—The Outlook, The Pathfinder, The Youth's Companion, and Harper's Weekly; and six monthlies—The Success, The Cosmopolitan, The Century, McClure's, The Baptist Missionary and The American Kitchen Magazines.

APPARATUS.

Few schools of this grade in the State have a more convenient chemical and physical laboratory than has this school. The apparatus is not of the expensive sort which is kept in glass cases to be looked at, but is made use of by the students. A systematic laboratory course is given in both Physics and Chemistry, thus enabling the student to acquire a knowledge of the subject which cannot be gained by the study of a text book alone or by observing the experiment performed by the teacher.

The chemical laboratory is equally well stocked with chemicals. To cover the cost of breakage and material, $1 for the course in Physics, and $1.50 for Chemistry is required of each student.

PHYSICAL EXERCISE.

During the warmer months students are advised to spend the recreation periods in the open air. The ample grounds offer excellent facilities for base-ball, croquet, tennis, and all sorts of out of door sports. The athletics of the school are under the control of the Executive Committee of the Athletic Association. The committee is made up of alumni, teachers and students and encourages all wholesome athletic games so far as they make stronger bodies, foster a manly spirit, and help the students to do better mental work. They are not allowed to occupy so prominent a place in school life as to become the end rather than the means of effort.

PUBLIC EXHIBITIONS.

Public exercises of the school in reading, declamation, and music are held during the fall and winter terms. The graduating exercises occur on the last Thursday of the spring term, when original addresses are required from all students receiving a diploma.

EXAMINATIONS.

Written examinations are given at the middle and at the end of each term. A special oral examination of the graduating class is given at the close of the spring term. No student will be excused from these examinations except for the best of reasons, and all thus excused will be required to pass examinations before continuing in the course of study, or receiving the diploma of the school. All students must make up and recite lessons lost by reason of absence, or they will be marked zero upon the lessons lost. The standing of each student is sent to the parent or guardian at the close of the term.

GRADUATION.

Young gentlemen and ladies who have completed any course and have passed a satisfactory examination, receive the diploma of the Institute certifying to these facts. In case the student's deportment has not been satisfactory or an average rank in scholarship of at least sixty per cent. has not been obtained, the diploma is not conferred. Students are ranked in the first, second or third grade, according to their average standing during their course. In making up this average, deportment is counted as one study.

ADMISSION TO COLBY COLLEGE.

Graduates from the College course are admitted to Colby College without further examination, on the certificate of the Principal that they have completed the course and have maintained an average scholarship of at least seventy per cent. in each study, provided that the said certificate shall be granted with the approval of the faculty of the college, a committee of whom shall attend the examinations of the Institute. Exception is made in the case of those who take the course without Greek, of whom an entrance examination is required.

SCHOLARSHIP.

Hon. Chester W. Kingsley of Cambridge, Mass., has paid $500 to be used to found a scholarship in Ricker Classical Institute. The donor desires that the income be employed, so far as may be, "to assist poor young men who are seeking an education for the purpose of becoming Baptist ministers."
